

CHARLEROI MERCHANTS ENJOY TRIP TO MONESSEN

Local People Visit Pittsburg Steel Company's Mills, Being the Guests of Superintendent George Nash.

PLANT COULD BUILD FENCE AROUND WORLD IN YEAR

Seventy-five members of the Charleroi Merchants Association and their friends visited the big plant of the Pittsburg Steel company at Monessen last night where, by the courtesy of Supt. Geo. Nash, they were shown through the various departments. The Pittsburg Steel company makes steel billets, rods, wire, fencing, and some other by-products. Stated thusly the operations seem a simple proposition, but like the man who thought that all that was necessary to paper a room was to put the paste on the paper and the paper on the wall, the execution is a different matter. Incidentally it may be added that to make a nail in Monessen requires a plant covering many acres, the investment of perhaps $100,000 and the employment of 500 men.

A special car over the Pennsylvania and Belle Vernon branch line left at 6:30. The office of the company at Monessen was in waiting for the party. The force detailed as guides for the visitors through the plant was made up of the new billet mill, which has been installed last year and a half at a cost of $100,000 in round numbers.

The process of converting iron into steel is a long and intricate one. Electric machines dumped the iron into the blazing open hearth furnaces, where it was transformed into molten steel. Ninety tons of this "hot stuff" was poured into a huge pot, which an electric crane picked up very easily and poured it into ingot moulds.

The machinery employed is too intricate for a layman to describe, but its magnitude is bewildering. The big engines, with rope drives for belting, 36 of them, each two inches in thickness; automatic stoking machines, which feed coal into furnaces and take the ashes out; and all the human help necessary is a man here and there to oil the machinery; pumps which draw million of gallons of water a day from the Monongahela river, and dynamos without number, for electricity plays a particular part in the manufacture of steel. A most interesting feature was the loading and unloading of cars of scrap iron and billets; by means of huge magnets. These are discs about the size of half a hoghead which by the aid of electric cranes are lowered into a car of scrap iron, the electric current turned on which magnetizes the disc. This attracts a couple of tons or more of the iron which is transferred wherever desired, the current turned off, and the iron lets go. One of these magnets picked up a couple of tons of steel billets, each about five feet long and weighing 150 pounds, as easily as a horseshoe magnet picks up a handful of pins.

There magnets are not dangerous in contact, but it is stated that one of the helpers who had a steel case watch in his pocket stood too near one of them one day when it was charged, and the ticker was snatched from his pocket as neatly as a "dip" could execute the act in a crowd.

The rod mills, the wire mills, the field and barbed wire fence departments, the nail mills and the seamless tubing departments were visited in turn. These are so extensive, so intricate, and so bewildering that it is difficult to describe them. In the twinkling of an eye hot steel billets are transferred into coils of wire. These are drawn cold, into smaller sizes, galvanized and made into fencing and wire nails. This requires many processes, elaborate machinery and an army of men.

Field fencing, is made on machines resembling looms, only the meshes are not woven. The cross strands of the wire are electrically welded which makes so strong a joint that it will never break. The plant can make 350 miles of fencing a day. In three days, time it could turn out enough fencing to enclose the Pennsylvania railroad on both sides from Pittsburg to Philadelphia.

"Won't you get all the fencing that is needed made soon at that rate?" K. W. Daly asked of Supt. Nash.

"The world is a mighty big place," was the reply, "and not more than one-fourth of it is fenced in yet."

In the nail department hundreds of machines make wire nails faster than one can count as they drop out. Here the noise is so great that workmen can only communicate by signs. The plant makes 3,000 kegs of nails a day, and has orders ahead for 450,000 kegs. The seamless tubing process is a most intricate one.

After the tour a surprise was given the visitors who were conducted to the office where Supt. Nash had a most excellent buffet lunch prepared. The guests then marched to the Hotel Grand where arrangements for entertainment had been made. W. H. Schuyler, the landlord, who is personally acquainted with every member of the party, cared for the guests in a most hospitable manner, and an elegant repast daintily served was in waiting.

When cigars were reached President J. H. Bowers called the meeting to order and introduced S. C. Todd as toastmaster. Short addresses were made by Supt. Nash, R. H. Rush, K. W. Daly, Geo. S. Might, Wm. Kirk and Harry Booth. After inviting Supt. Nash and his assistants to a natatorium party in Charleroi July 1 and thanking him and his genial corps for the pleasures of the evening, the company adjourned with three cheers for Supt. Nash and another round for their host at the hotel, W. H. Schuyler.

ORDERS FOR RESUMPTION

Ellsworth Collieries Company Will In Few Days Put 500 Men to Work

Ellsworth and Cokeburg are to enjoy the greatest prosperity in their history during the coming month, and from the present outlook the next few years will mean the building up of a great community there. Orders have been received during the past few days from the Lackawanna Steel company which controls the Ellsworth Collieries company, which will keep the mines running full for months. Within the next few days 500 experienced miners will be put to work. The orders received will mean the resumption of mine No. 4 at Cokeburg closed down partly and all other mines owned by the company for three years. It is estimated that before the month is over the payroll in this vicinity will reach $150,000. Three hundred teams are to be turned at once in the mine and in each of the other mines 200 rooms will be turned.

The present high output of the Ellsworth Collieries company is 8,000 tons a day. With the increased force it is expected that the daily output will be increased to 10,000 tons. Improved facilities for handling this immense tonnage have been installed.

Many new houses will be erected in the section. The Presbyterian congregation will build a church in the near future.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION OF AT CLAYVILLE

Many Delegates Present for the First Day's Session.

DISCUSSION OF THE WORK

Sunday school workers of national reputation appeared yesterday, as speakers at the fourteenth annual convention of the Washington county Sabbath School Association which convened at Clayville. Delegates from nearly every Sunday School in the county were present. At noon yesterday nearly 250 delegates had enrolled, and this number was greatly augmented last night.

Prof. L. L. Henry of Chicago has charge of the music during the day. The speaker at the morning service was Rev. C. A. Oliver of York, who is superintendent of Teachers' Training work. During the afternoon numerous Sunday school workers appeared. Rev. L. W. Shey of Charleroi conducted devotional service. Rev. Oliver made an address on "Training of the Teachers." A Teacher Training conference was held, in charge of Rev. E. A. Cole of Washington. Miss Nannie L. Frayser of Louisville, Ky., the greatest Bible story teller in the world, addressed during the afternoon on "Lesson Preparation."

Last evening's service was featured by the illustrated lecture of Rev. C. L. McKee of Washington on "Life and Travels of St. Paul." Mrs. Carrie Stewart Besserer of New York spoke on "Sabbath School Evangelism."

This morning's session was featured by conferences of Superintendents, Adult Bible Class Workers, Intermediate Department Teachers conference and the Elementary Teachers conference. A children's meeting was held at 10:45 o'clock, Mrs. Carrie Besserer and Miss Nannie Frayser taking part. The afternoon program consisted principally of a business session and five minute addresses.

Coke Business Better.

Coke production in the Connellsville region last week beat the record of the week previous nearly 8,000 tons. The shipments showed an increase of 1,000 cars. The total production in the Connellsville and Lower Connellsville regions amounted to 298,000 tons. The previous year the total production was 291,000 tons. The H. C. Frick company got out orders for putting in about 200 more ovens.

HEARING IN AVNER CASE

Peoples Bank Claims Title to Land In East Pike Run Township.

The ejectment suit of the Peoples bank of California against Max Avner, was taken up in Judge J. F. Taylor's court yesterday afternoon.

The suit is an action in ejectment of a lot in East Pike Run township. The plaintiff claims title through the assignment of a leasehold on the property by Avner to Piper and by Piper to the bank. Avner leased the lot from Irene West Moffitt and Victor Moffitt formerly of Charleroi, for a period of nine years from August 12, 1907. Avner has erected on the lot a two-story frame building and other buildings. The lease is reputed to be worth $5,000. The plaintiff claims that the lease was assigned to Piper, as trustee of the bank, as security for an overdraft of $700 and for any overdrafts in the future. The defense claims that this assignment was made solely for the purpose of securing the overdraft of $700, that prior to the closing of the Peoples bank and prior to the time when Piper assigned the lease to the Peoples bank, Avner had fully paid to Piper the entire amount of his over-draft.

MONONGAHELA'S TREASURY IS IN GOOD SHAPE

Down River Town Spent Money Freely, But Still Has to Spare

CREATES A NEW RECORD

The annual statement of Monongahela finances was given out yesterday and the proud boast of every Monongahelan is that the splendid financial condition of that city is not to be duplicated anywhere in the United States.

The city does not owe a cent on bills contracted during the year and has due it, including cash in bank and other resources, $22,441.54. The city has expended during the year, $26,018.43. No outstanding obligations are left over for the fiscal year, no new indebtedness, bonded or otherwise, has been contracted and the city presents an admirable "clean slate."

It may be of interest to note some of the bills paid by the city: Police, $2,845.10; Gas light, $4,194.75; Electric light, $1,543.29; streets, $5,732.01, to which must be added, of course, teams $1,766.45, or a total of $7,498.46 on the streets.

The interest on daily balances, collected by the city treasurer, seems small—$82.55.

Improvements For Marianna During Coming Summer—To Erect Bath House.

Improvements to cost $600,000 are planned for Marianna during the present summer. The improvements will include the erection of 150 houses, of which 100 will be 8 and 10 rooms; 25 will be three rooms, and 25 will be five rooms. The work will be conducted by the Pittsburg-Buffalo company and plans and specifications will be completed as soon as possible. In connection with these there is to be a large bath house erected.

IMPORTANT COAL DEAL

Jones and Laughlin Company Buy Much Land In This County.

Another big coal deal is reported from the Marianna district, wherein the Jones-Laughlin company have taken over 5,500 acres from the Pittsburg-Buffalo company, the consideration being about $4,000,000. The acquisition of this acreage gives the Steel company about 20,000 acres of coal in that locality, and which will be developed in the near future.

lin have their own coke ovens and have recently added to their already large batteries by building additional ones at Aliquippa, where the new furnaces are located.

This coal is said to be a deposit of the old Connellsville Basin seam, or of a quality equally as good. The acres now owned by Jones and Laughlin brings the dividing line within 2,000 feet of the town of Marianna and the properties of the Pittsburg Buffalo company. The purchase will insure a permanent supply of coke for the new Aliquippa plant when it is ready, and a battery of 888 by-product coke ovens will be built on the tract, and also near the present ovens at the Eliza furnaces.

What Was it Before?

In urging the Republican county committee to make local option an issue when it frames a platform at the coming convention, the Washington Observer in an editorial says: "Unfortunately last year certain active politicians tore it (the Republican party) away from its safe anchorage and committed it to the cause of the liquor people." Further the Observer adds: "So long as the Republican party continues its alliance with the liquor people it must do without the confidence and support of the Christian and moral people of the county."

So far as the Assemblymen are concerned, the Observer has no ground for a kick. Two of the Assemblymen who were elected as opponents of the liquor interests voted for the only local option bill that came up at the last session of the Legislature. If the Republican party is committed and controlled by the liquor interest since the dethronement of E. F. Acheson, what was it during his regime as political dictator, when the booze and boodle system was introduced and perfected in Washington county, and which is now being eliminated? It was under this regime that the greatest crime against the cause of temperance was perpetuated—the repeal of the prohibitory act of Monongahela and Carroll township. By this act, which was made a political asset at the time, fourteen saloons were added to the county, the most of which are in existence today.

Vacations at Home.

It is probably due to Vice President J. B. Schafer of the Charleroi Merchants Association that the latter body is introducing a most delightful diversion in the "dull, gray monotony" of the business grind. Mr. Schafer's suggestion that the members arrange a series of evening excursions to the various industrial plants and other points of local interest, in order to broaden individual knowledge of what the Monongahela valley is noted for, is being carried out most successfully. Instead of becoming a perfunctory order of business the tours are a source of much pleasure and profit.

By continuing these tours the busy man can have all the pleasures of a vacation here at home without the loss of time and practically no expense. The trip to Monessen last night was worth a week's sojourn at some conventional vacation resort to the man who is interested in the world's work and progress. In addition to many thrilling sights and sensations was the association of those best known to one another, and whose company is most desired but rarely enjoyed for lack of opportunity. These home vacations are a delightful break in the business routine, and it is to be hoped they will continue.

Comes Riverward.

The intelligence of the big coal strike in Washington county whereby

Jones and Laughlin, the big steel manufacturers of Pittsburgh, have increased their coal supply, will be received with satisfaction. While this field is secured largely for a reserve for future years, past events have shown that trade and industry are liable at any time to exceed all expectations and upset preconceived plans. This big holding is a future industrial asset that may be realized upon at any time.

When the Jones and Laughlin steel interests are running at their full capacity their up-river coal mines are not able to supply all the fuel required by the plants. One thing is certain the coal is there for development, and whenever a big industrial wave strikes the country, as it is likely to at any time, the reserve will have to be drawn upon. When this occurs, the trend of the increased industry will be riverward, and that means more business in all departments.

Electric Sparks

Now that the Kansas professor, after years of study, has learnedly announced that when a person tells a lie, one or the other of his big toes invariably wiggles, wifely will be sure to have the light on full force at 3 or 4 a. m., when hubby comes home to tell her "heesh ben sittin' up wish sick frien."

Some newspapers are saying that Jim Jeffries is now in perfect shape, while others make the assertion that he couldn't last six rounds without giving in. Now what we want to know is which is right of the two kinds?

Charles W. Morse has been released from jail, after serving a term of seven months and ten days in the Tombs prison. If it had been a poor person convicted and sentenced as he was, there could not have been any earthly chance of getting out much under their term of sentence. Note the contrast. Socialistic doctrine, it is true, but only a comparison which shows matters in their true light.

Some one said there was to be an eclipse of the sun yesterday afternoon. On this particular Jupiter Pluvius, old Sol and the moon got mixed up in their dates.

On a New York roof garden a boy starting to play a game of casino, and getting the best hand possible in such a game was so startled by a flock of pigeons flying past that he fell off the building. After going a few stories, and having ample time to think of the few kindnesses, and other deeds he had committed in the past, he landed in a net work of clothes-lines, and escaped practically unhurt. Luck was surely with that lad.

A man deserts a $5,000 car to escape $250 fine—Headline. The man who did that must have been "broke."

HISTORY: A TUSK.

Pictures Made by Cave Man Millions of Years Ago.

Long ago, so that even a scientist would hardly venture a guess as to the date, an old man with a wild beard and a long hair was sitting at the mouth of a cave in one of the rocky hills in what is now southern France was scratching with a sharp tool the fragments of an ivory tusk, perhaps picturing for some youthful heirs adventures through which had passed or animals he had slain. That ivory chip was stored away a treasure, to be lost and forgotten the cave man's death. One day an named Lartet, digging in the old floor, found it. On it was scratched a very fair representation of a hairy elephant, probably at once the oldest picture and the oldest in record in existence.

We know the cave man was a faithful workman, for melting ice fields of Siberia have left a perfect specimen of this extinct animal, and the paleolithic picture, true copy. Not only has this ancient sculptor given us a sample of the cave art, but he has left us, more valuable than all, a historical record of time, for this rude picture is similar to the cave man's history, which translated into twentieth century English, says, "Men, thinking in were contemporaneous with the hairy elephant."

No record that of humankind have ever left is so ancient as this. The oldest papyrus is a thing of yesterday compared to this paleolithic sculpture. While the cave man was living, Europe the valley of the Nile was really a wild waste. Egypt was not reedy, and civilization as we know it scarcely made a beginning. —Lippott's

LOCAL PEOPLE

WANT CONVENTION

Efforts Being Made To Have Protected Home Circle Delegates Here.

The reception committee that entertained the visiting members of Loyal Circle 113 of the Protected Home Circle on last Friday evening were much pleased to receive from the visitors so many complimentary remarks regarding Charleroi. All were loud in their praise of our good hotels, clean streets and business houses. Incidentally it might be said that this visit is but one step to secure the Grand Circle Convention in Charleroi two years hence. The local circle of the P. H. C., one of the leading fraternal organizations, will leave nothing undone to secure the Grand Circle Convention for Charleroi.

Already the local committee has received much encouragement from some of the leading business men of the town. The visitors here on Friday evening mailed over 100 post cards of local views to their friends. The Pittsburg papers also spoke of the visit to Charleroi and the hospitality accorded the visitors. The Mail's editorial of recent date has already brought out some good suggestions along the line of securing conventions for Charleroi.

SOCIAL EWS

F THE DAY

Marriage of former Charleroi Couple—Festivals.

Feature Evenings.

The wedding of Miss Sarah Rock to Frank Kubina took place in St. Francis De Sales Catholic church of Morgantown, W. Va., Tuesday, June 15, at 11 a. m. Rev. Father Kuser officiating. Thriving ceremony was held. The bride was attired in a dress made exclusively of embroidery, and was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Rock who carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. M. Stein Kubina, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. The dining room was beautifully decorated, the color scheme of pink and white being used throughout.

M. and Mrs. Kubina left Morgantown on the early train Wednesday and arrived here at 130. They will make their home at this place. Mr. Kubina holds a responsible position with the Hussy-Bryans Shovel company. A wide circle of friends extend to them their best wishes for much happiness and prosperity in their married life.

The ladies of the Grist Lutheran church are planning to give another Black Carnival in July, similar to that held last fall. They are making preparation for a larger and more attractive affair, and the people of Charleroi will be interested to assist the ladies in this progressive church in making it a great success.

Last Dance of Season.

The Badgers Club of Monessen last evening at Eldora park held their last dance of the winter season, it being a self affair. A number of young people were present from Charleroi, Monessen, Monongahela and other near towns. The event was one of social importance.

What Was it Before?

In urging the Republican county committee to make local option an issue when it frames a platform at the coming convention, the Washington Observer in an editorial says:
"Unfortunately last year certain active politicians tore it (the Republican party) away from its safe anchorage and committed it to the cause of the liquor people." Further the Observer adds: "So long as the Republican party continues its alliance with the liquor people it must do without the confidence and support of the Christian and moral people of the county."

So far as the Assemblymen are concerned, the Observer has no ground for a kick. Two of the Assemblymen who are active in the liquor interests voted for the local option bill that came up at the last session of the Legislature. If the Republican party is committed and controlled by the liquor interest since the dethronement of E. F. Acheson, what was it during his regime as political dictator, when the booze and bottle system was introduced and perfected in Washington county, and which is now being eliminated? It was under this regime that the greatest crime against the cause of temperance was perpetuated—the repeal of the prohibitory act of Monongahela and Carroll township. By this act, which was made a political asset at the time, fourteen saloons were added to the county, the most of which are in existence today.

Vacations at Home.

It is probably due to Vice President
J. B. Schafer of the Charleroi Merchants Association that the latter body is introducing a most delightful diversion in the "dull, gray monotony" of the business grind. Mr.
Schafer's suggestion that the members arrange a series of evening excursions to the various industrial plants and other points of local interest, in order to broaden individual knowledge of what the Monongahela valley is noted for, is being carried out most successfully. Instead of becoming a perfunctory order of business the tours are a source of much pleasure and profit.

By continuing these tours the busy man can have all the pleasures of a vacation here at home without the loss of time and practically no expense. The trip to Monessen last night was worth a week's sojourn at some conventional vacation resort to the man who is interested in the world's work and progress. In addition to many thrilling sights and sensations was the association of those best known to one another, and whose company is most desired but rarely enjoyed for lack of opportunity. These home vacations are a delightful break in the business routine, and it is to be hoped they will continue.

Comes Riverward.

The intelligence of the big coal
sale in Washington county whereby

Jones and Laughlin, the big steel manufacturers of Pittsburgh, have increased their coal supply, will be received with satisfaction. While this field is secured largely for a reserve for future years, past events have shown that trade and industry are liable at any time to exceed all expectations and upset preconceived plans. This big holding is a future industrial asset that may be realized
upon at any time.

When the Jones and Laughlin steel interests are running at their full capacity their up-river coal mines are not able to supply all the fuel required by the plants. One thing is certain the coal is there for development, and whenever a big industrial wave strikes the country, as it is likely to at any time, the reserve will have to be drawn upon. When this occurs, the trend of the increased industry will be riverward, and that

Some newspapers are saying that Jim Jeffries is now in perfect shape, while others make the assertion that he couldn't last six rounds without giving in. Now what we want to know is which is right of the two kinds?

Charles W. Morse has been released from jail, after serving a term of seven months and ten days in the Tomb prison. If it had been a poor person convicted and sentenced as he was, there could not have been any earthly chance of getting out much under their term of sentence. Note the contrast. Socialistic doctrine, it is true, but only a comparison which shows matters in their true light.

Some one said there was to be an

On this particular Jupiter Pluvius,

On a New York roof garden a boy fell off the building. After going a he landed in a net work of clothes-

Luck was surely with that lad.

HISTORY... A TUSK

Picture Made of Cave Man Millions of Years Ago

Long ago, so that even a scientist would hardly venture a guess as to the date, an old man with only a wild beast's about his joints was sitting at the mouth of a cave in one of the rocky hills in what is now southern France. He was scratching with a sharp tool the fragments of an ivory tusk upon which he was picturing for some youthful hunters adventures through which and passed or animals, he had slain. That ivory chip was stored away a treasure, to be lost and forgotten the cave man's death. One day an named Lartet, digging in the cave floor, found it. On it was scratched a very fair representation of a hairy elephant, probably at once the oldest picture and the oldest ink record in existence.

We know the cave man was a faithful workman, for melting ice fields of Siberia have yielded a perfect specimen of this extinct animal, and the paleolithic picture, true copy. Not only has this ancient picture given us a sample of the cave art, but he has left us a record of his life, a historical record of a time, for this rude picture is still a page from the cave man's history book, translated into twentieth century English, says, "Men, thinking to be contemporaneous with the elephant."

No record that of humankind have ever left is so ancient as this. The oldest Egyptian papyrus is a thing of yesterday compared to this paleolithic sculpture. While the cave man was living in the valley of the Nile was really a wild waste. Egypt was not a city, and civilization as we know it scarcely made a beginning.—Lippitt's

LOCAL PEOPLE

WANT CONVENTION

Efforts Being Made To Have Protected Home Circle Delegates Here.

The reception committee that entertained the visiting members of Loyal Circle 113 of the Protected Home Circle on last Friday evening were much pleased to receive from the visitors so many complimentary remarks regarding Charleroi. All were loud in their praise of our good hotels, clean streets and large business houses. Incidentally it might be said that this visit is but one step to securing the Grand Circle Convention in Charleroi two years hence. The local circle of P. H. C., one of the leading fraternal organizations, will leave nothing undone to secure the Grand Circle Convention for Charleroi.

Already the local committee has received much encouragement from some of the leading business men of the town. The visitors here on Friday evening mailed over 100 post cards of local views to their friends. The Pittsburg papers also spoke of the visit to Charleroi and the hospitality accorded the visitors. The Mail's editorial of recent date has already brought out some good suggestions along the line of securing conventions for Charleroi.
